

PATIENT INFORMATION

Working together for your health

What is a case conference?

A case conference is when your GP brings together a team of health specialists – all focused on you. They review your care, share their expertise, and work out the best path forward for your health together.

Who is involved?

Your GP puts together the right team for your specific needs – this might include specialists, allied health professionals, and clinicians who each bring something different to support your care.

What is the benefit?

Instead of seeing one person at a time, your whole care team is on the same page at once. That means better decisions, fewer gaps, and a care plan that's truly built around you.

COMMON QUESTIONS

Is it FREE?

Yes — completely. Medicare funds the full cost of your case conference, and your practice bulk bills it. There's nothing out of pocket for you.

Do I need to be there?

You don't need to be there. Your GP will walk you through the outcomes afterwards — including any new recommendations for your care.

Is my information kept private?

Yes. Only information relevant to your care is shared, and everything discussed remains strictly confidential.

TALK TO YOUR GP

Ask your practice whether a case conference could be right for your care.